

Suggestions On Hosting Tirzah's Virtual Dinner

Thank you for choosing to host Tirzah's Virtual Dinner. Events like this would be impossible without the efforts of wonderful hosts like you. Because we want to make this event as effortless as possible, we have compiled a list of helpful ideas of what to do when planning your night!

First Steps?

First, decide on the guests you would like to include, and send out those evites! (see Digital Materials List) Having friends over creates a fun environment, and that's what we are going for! We want groups of people from all over gathering to enjoy a cultural meal, have some good conversations, and hear about what Tirzah is doing across the globe!

What's Next?

Next, choose a theme for your dinner. The “theme” being what culturally inspired dishes you will be serving. You can cook in advance of the event or invite your pals the day-of and have everyone join in! As part of your host package, we have included three authentic recipe card packs (see Digital Materials List at bottom of document). You aren't interested in cooking? Well, catering from a local culturally authentic restaurant is another great option (plus no dishes!).

Suggested Schedule?

We suggest that on the big night, you have your group eat dinner together at least 45 minutes before the event begins at 6 PM (Mountain Time USA). This would allow your group to have plenty of time to chat, get comfortable, and get seconds or thirds of the delicious dinner before the session begins.

Special Message for Hosts

We want this Virtual Dinner to feel personal, engaging, and fun. As the host, you are our closest partner in making this dream a reality. Thank you for your willingness to be a part of the journey with us!
