Emilie Rezendes

Technical, Grant, and Proposal Writer

About Me

I'm a driven undergraduate studying for a BA in Technical Communication. Between my technical writing coursework, a non-profit internship, and my current work as a content creator, I've built hands-on experience in user-friendly documentation, instruction manuals, technical editing, and administrative support. I'm a 4.0 student detail-oriented, organized, and self-motivated looking forward to growing professionally and building on my skillset through every new opportunity.
